- <sup>3</sup> Support for Cell Manager, Installation Server, MoM and Graphical User Interface is removed.

Application Support

With Data Protector 10.x, application support is dropped only for the application/operating system combinations listed in the table below. For example, Oracle 11g remains supported on all existing operating systems, except Solaris 9 and SUSE Linux Enterprise Server (SLES) 10, which means customers running Oracle 11g on SUSE SLES 11 are supported in Data Protector 10.x.

In the following table, the cells where 'Operating Systems' column is set as 'All', the application is no longer supported on any of the operating systems.

Application	Operating Systems	Support Matrices (modified)
Baan IV	All	All the Support Matrix

Virtualization Support

The table in this section lists the unsupported operating system/applications and the support matrices that are updated to reflect the change.

Operating System / Application	Support Matrices (modified)
VMware GRE flex Plugin <sup>3</sup>	Virtualization Support Matrix
VMware vCloud Director	All the Support Matrix
VMware 5.1, 5.5, 6.0, 6.5, 6.7 (Includes all 'U1, U2, U3')	All the Support Matrix

Virtual Environment Agent (vStorage API + Cloud method)	Virtualization Support Matrix
HPE StoreOnce Recovery Manager Central	All the Support Matrix

<sup>3</sup> In Data Protector 10.x, angular GRE plugin replaces the flex plugin. Customers on VMware 5.0, 5.1, and 5.5 U1 are impacted, as GRE flex plugin is not available with Data Protector 10.x. After you upgrade to VMware 5.5 U2, you can use the new angular GRE plugin.

Note that for the customers who cannot upgrade from VMware 5.5 U1 to VMware 5.5 U2, Data Protector 10.x still supports all backup and recovery operations, including power-on and live migrate operations. The only impact is the unavailability of the GRE plugin.
